Fireworks Safety

As the Fourth of July approaches, the City of Kingsburg would like to remind its residents to prioritize fireworks safety and avoid using illegal fireworks to ensure a safe and enjoyable celebration. Only state-approved "safe and sane" fireworks are permitted, while illegal explosives pose significant risks of injury, property damage, and wildfires, especially given the dry summer conditions.

The Kingsburg Fire Department emphasizes keeping a water source nearby, never allowing children to handle fireworks, and attending professional public displays instead of setting off unauthorized ones. Violations can result in fines or legal action, so residents are encouraged to embrace safety for a festive, incident-free holiday.

To report non-emergency illegal firework use, please dial 559-897-2931 and be prepared to provide:

- Specific location
- Description of involved persons
- Any immediate danger to areas with dry brush and vegetation susceptible to fire.

Have a Safe 4th of July

Heat Safety Awareness

Temperatures are rising and it's that time of year! Knowing the difference between heat exhaustion and heatstroke can save a life!

Heat Exhaustion

Symptoms:

Weakness, dizziness, excessive sweating, cool/clammy skin, nausea, and weak pulse.

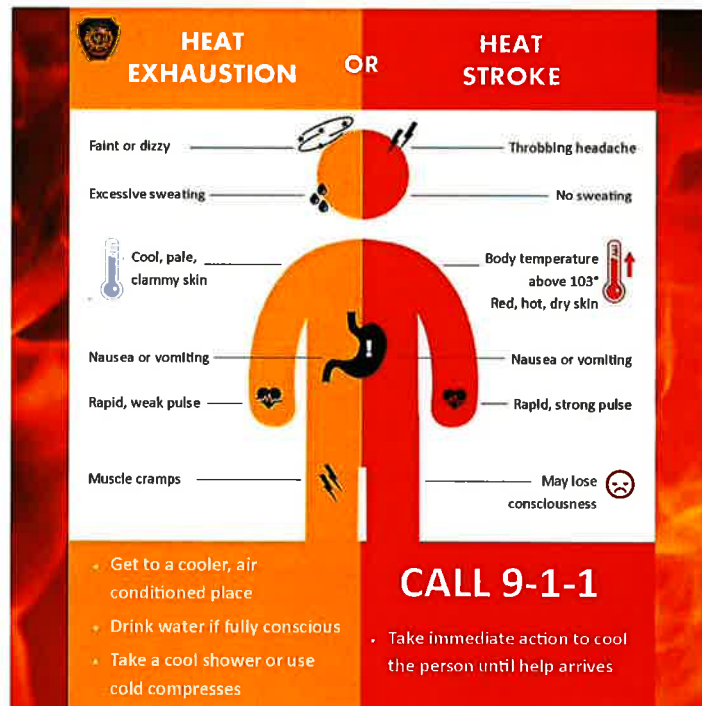

What to do: Move to a cool place, hydrate if conscious, cool off with water if possible.

Heatstroke (Life Threatening Emergency)

Symptoms: Throbbing headache, no sweating, red/hot/dry skin, body temp over 103°F, strong pulse, confusion, possible unconsciousness.

What to do: CALL 9-1-1 immediately and take action to cool the person down until help arrives.

Stay vigilant during extreme heat, recognize the signs, react quickly, and stay safe. Your awareness can make all the difference!

Cooling Centers

The City of Kingsburg has activated its Cooling Centers as temperatures are expected to soar, offering residents a safe haven from the summer heat. Starting June 9 through August 8, 2025 on days 104°F or higher, the Crandell Swim Complex (1900 18th Avenue) provides free public swim sessions from 12:00pm to 4:00pm on weekdays, while the Senior Center (1450 Ellis Street) serves as a cooling center from 8:00am to 5:00pm, Monday through Friday.

These initiatives underscore the critical need to stay cool during intense summer heatwaves, which can lead to heat exhaustion or heatstroke, particularly for vulnerable populations. Residents are encouraged to utilize these resources to protect their health, as staying hydrated and avoiding prolonged exposure to high temperatures are essential for safely navigating the season.

2024 Consumer Confidence Report

The City of Kingsburg released its 2024 annual water quality report, detailing the testing of its drinking water from January 1 to December 31, 2024, sourced from seven groundwater wells (Wells 09, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16) that collectively produced 963.63 million gallons of clean water. The report highlights the City's commitment to providing safe, dependable drinking water, with two wells equipped with treatments to remove 1,2,3-trichloropropane (TCP) and all water chlorinated before distribution.

The water system, supported by a looped network of mains ranging from 2 to 12 inches, maintains consistent flow and pressure, while the iconic downtown coffee pot water tower, though decommissioned, monitors pressure. Residents are encouraged to conserve water by reducing runoff, monitoring daily usage, and promptly repairing leaks.

For more details, contact the Water Department at 559-897-1066. The Kingsburg City Council invites public participation at its meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 6:00pm at City Hall (1401 Draper Street). Special thanks to Kingsburg Public Works for keeping our water safe and clean!

This Week in History

On July 3, 1775, George Washington rides out in front of the American troops gathered at Cambridge common in Massachusetts and draws his sword, formally taking command of the Continental Army. Washington, a prominent Virginia planter and veteran of the French and Indian War, had been appointed commander in chief by the Continental Congress two weeks before. In agreeing to serve the American colonies in their war for independence, he declined to accept payment for his services beyond reimbursement of future expenses.

George Washington was born in 1732 to a farm family in Westmoreland County, Virginia. His first direct military experience came as a lieutenant colonel in the Virginia colonial militia in 1754, when he led a small expedition against the French in the Ohio River Valley on behalf of the governor of Virginia, beginning a fight that resulted in disastrous defeat for first Washington and then British General Edward Braddock. This launched the Seven Years War, but Washington resigned from his military post and returned to a planter's life in Virginia, later taking a seat in Virginia's House of Burgesses. During the next two decades, Washington openly opposed escalating British taxation and repression of the American colonies. In 1774, he represented Virginia at the Continental Congress.

After the American Revolution erupted in 1775, Washington was nominated to be commander in chief of the newly established Continental Army. Some in the Continental Congress opposed his appointment, thinking other candidates were better equipped for the post, but he was ultimately chosen because, as a Virginian, his leadership helped bind the southern colonies more closely to the rebellion in New England. Despite his inexperienced and poorly equipped army of civilian soldiers, General Washington led an effective war of harassment against British forces in America, while encouraging the intervention of the French into the conflict on behalf of the colonists. On October 19, 1781, with the surrender of British General Charles Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Virginia, General Washington defeated one of the most powerful nations on earth.

After the war, the victorious general retired to his estate at Mount Vernon, but, in 1787, he heeded his nation's call and agreed to preside over the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The drafters created the office of president with him in mind, and, in February 1789, Washington was unanimously elected the first president of the United States. As president, Washington sought to unite the nation and protect the interests of the new republic at home and abroad. Of his presidency, he said, "I walk on untrodden ground. There is scarcely any part of my conduct which may not hereafter be drawn in precedent." He successfully implemented executive authority, making good use of brilliant politicians such as Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson in his cabinet, and quieted fears of presidential tyranny. In 1792, he was unanimously reelected but, four years later, refused a third term. He died in 1799.
