Friday is "Endangered Species Day." The Water Department works very hard to protect endangered species while also providing water to nearly 100,000 customers 24/7/365. Our work includes not just fisheries conservation but also work with Ohlone tiger beetles, western pond turtles, Ben Lomond spineflower and many others. Notably, bald eagles have been calling Loch Lomond home for the past several years. Bald eagles are a shining example of an Endangered Species Act success stor... See More
